The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can for n moment be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, dopression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexious indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case. In all cases of female debility (duor aftus, chlorosis, etc.), its effects are delightfully renovating. No remedy has ever been discovered, in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt, happy, and fully restorative sffects. Good appetite, complete digestion, rapid acquisition of strength, with an unusual disposition for strength, with an unusual disposition for active and cherful exercise, immediately follow its use. As a grand stomachic and general restorative it has no superior and no substitute.

FRIDAY, NOV. 18, 1859. Gerrit Smith is still in the Lunatic Asylum at Tides, and the Utica Harrid says that his insanity is very violent—that he has exhibited such a disposition to commit suicide that an attandant is obliged to keep constant watch over him. There is obliged to keep constant watch over him. There is and has long been bereditary insanity in his family and has long been bereditary insanity in his family and has long been bereditary insanity in his family and has long been bereditary insanity in his family and has long been bereditary insanity in his family and has long been bereditary insanity in his family and has long been bereditary insanity in his family at large his father. Peter Smith, the possessor of an immense estate, and anrounded by all the circumstances of preserving, was enhyset to fits of dread-tances of preserving to lunary. Gently dread to the preserving the preserving the fits of the fit Smith a brother, the late Freter Sacar Bankin, a man of very considerable political distinction, was in the Lunatia Asylum for many years before his death. There is little doubt that Gerrit Smith's ineasity has been hastened by the result of the Vir-punity reliability. We record to We regard it as nearly or qui guia rebellion. We regard it as nearly or quite certain that he was fully aware of the plan of the any plan to rescition, and that he not only wished it success that he not only wished it success that he made to a the plan to the plan maduese. Inequity is not so great a punishment a-he deserved. Still we would not have a man, utques-toomally used, arraigned before any tribunal except a jury to decide upon his lunsay. Mr. Smith is a man of high education, great talents, and elegant accomplishments, and, in his own peculiar way, be has been a philanthropist, expending tens and colling of themselved of dellars of his large furture. This of thousands of dellars of his large fortuns with a view to the promotion of what he deemed the welfare and happiness of his fellow-men. And we this name, surfess the nation shall conclude that he to consult apport the best means of organising the was already delurious when he axtended his favor uniformly by the bitteress and fercety of the marks made the impression that he longed for the bloody consummation of his horrible prophesies.

Though not a madman, he is a ferce fanatic, and a wretchedly had member of society. Wa believe him worthy of death npon the guilows. He, to be sure, denies now all previous knowledge of the Virsum early than the light in the malady chould bring this conference, while an agreement upon such a basis would be impregnable.

Solution to the question of th animoned by all respectable men like a leger or a femil.

Mr. Seward has been for some months absent from the United States, and it is impossible to expect the time. It is political friends and the political of from a few househort him is fortunate or unforced from the present time. It is political friends and the political opponents generally agree as to what he hence and did it in ragnel to the contemplated in nurrecture, though they differ as to the question of the guitt of his action or his on an extion. It comes now to be conceded on all hands that Col. Fortest the English adventurer, whose letters have recordly injured through the press, explained quite fully to he polling of lifegal valves; and as the poof in these cases will turn on the linguity of his color or his one letters have recordly injured through the press, explained quite fully to he had to be commended to his own; that Mr. Seward capressed regret at the commenderation's having been made to him; that he diclared at once that the thing must be stopped; and that be and others did tog it for the time and probabily tumposed that is would never be revised, and, although they do not seem to fastan the highest digree. These we have modulat were the facets, and, although they do not seem to fastan the highest digree. These we have modulat were the facet, and, although they do not seem to fastan the highest digree of pail topio Mr. Saward, they certainly implicate him very deeply. Measuing the plan of the relation, he foll based compelled by a server one size in every mind why he regretted that it had been made to him; and where the control of the relation of policy, and perhaps by his allegance, to have it is a restelly a server of the control of the relation of policy, and perhaps by his allegance, those we have modulate compelled by a server of the control of the policy of the policy withstanding all his great and truly valuable services in the general cause of philanthropy for more than a quenter of a contury, we fear that his name, if not his body, must be gibbetted before the eyes of men. Ard yet, knowing Dr. Hews as we do, we are inclined to believe that be must have been the victim of some arrango and dreadful delution.

Moreover, it would be very easy to chea by quotatiums from many of the be ther-Abolitomist. Moreover, it was not be very been by quotations from many of the speckee of Mr. Goldings, made in and out of Congress, that he has, throughout all his political life, looked expectantly and exultingly forward to just each events as John Brown, at the head of a head of armed men, attempted to inaugurate. Mr. Golding in ground the specket of the survey was destined to be abolished by slave insurrectione, and he has predicted that slavery was destined to be abolished by slave insurrectione, and he has predicted such insurrections, not as matters to be deprecated, but rather to be desired. He has uniformly by the bitterness and ferocity of his remarks made the impression that he longed for the bloody consummation of his horrible prophesies.
